Woolston for Chairman.
John B. Woolston of the Fifth Ward, East Orange, will probably be chosen chairman of the Republican City Executive Committee. Mr. Woolston will succeed Edgar Williams, who was defeated at the recent primaries for re-election to the County Committee by Harry J. Untiedt, and, of course, will not be a candidate for re-election. Mr. Woolston, who was formerly in charge of the Lackawanna freight office here, is now chief clerk in the Burlington's office.

Renewed Postal Changes.

There are rumors afloat of important changes to be made in the postal business of this town and Glen Ridge early next year. The Post-office Department at Washington has been in receipt of numerous letters from residents of the borough within the past year or so asking that the benefit of free postal delivery be extended to that place. The amount of business transacted through the Glen Ridge post-office is not sufficient to make it a free delivery office, and Postmaster George W. Heath, it is said, has been directed to make a report to the Post-office Department as to the possibility of extending the free delivery service of his office throughout the borough. Mr. Heath when spoken to about the matter said that in so far as he knew yet the matter was simply rumor, and no official action had been taken in regard to it.

Residents of a part of the borough now have the benefit of the free delivery system through the voluntary work of the letter carriers of the local office, who deliver letters to residents of the borough along the border line and who have their mail addressed to the Bloomfield office. Letter-carriers on three of the routes of the local office system go to the borough line at various points, and it would not be a difficult matter to adjust the routes so as to take in the entire borough. If the consolidation of the postal business of the two places is carried out, the working force in the local office will of necessity be increased and those who are now doing occasional substitute work will have a chance for permanent employment.

Soho Protests.

As soon as it was publicly announced that the Board of Freeholders had obtained land in the Soho district of Belleville township as a site for the county isolation hospital, the residents in that part of Belleville began at once to get out a remonstrance against the locating of the hospital there. Property owners readily signed the remonstrance, and on Tuesday night it was submitted to the Belleville Township Committee by George Manley. The petition read as follows: "We, residents of Soho Park, petition the Township Committee, who are entrusted with the welfare of the people of the township, to prevent the erection of the isolation hospital, or more bluntly speaking, the post-house, on the site proposed at Soho Park. This will not only endanger the lives of persons who will be compelled to live there, but will also decrease value of property at this point, which would be a very few years be one of the best places of paying property that Belleville possesses. But if the erection of the aforesaid building is permitted the property would be a millstone on the neck of the township."

The property of the Abram S. Hewitt estate, known as Soho Park, is located near where it is proposed to locate the hospital, and it is anticipated that the administrators of the estate will join in the protest.
Soho Park was developed at a great expense a few years ago. For some reason or other a hitch occurred with the township officials in the matter of water and sewerage and no further building was done. The Hewitt estate alone, it is said, has about $100,000 invested in property about the park.

Hahne & Co.'s Christmas Display.
Attention is called to the annual Christmas display of Hahne & Co., Newark, New Jersey's greatest store. Never before in the history of this well-known and popular store has such a display of holiday goods been offered. No matter what is wanted for the young or old, cheap or expensive, useful or ornamental, you will surely find it at Hahne & Co.'s, and at lower prices than at any of the stores of New York. Everything under the sun can be obtained at this great emporium, home or personal needs. No store in the world has a better opportunity to display its goods; none has the facilities to handle the holiday crowds as well as Hahne & Co. Free deliveries at all railroad stations in New Jersey. Extra special delivery service for the holidays.

Another Large Building in Newark.
Plans for the proposed twelve-story office structure which the Public Service Corporation intends to erect for its exclusive use at Park place and North Canal street, Newark, were filed with the Superintendent of Buildings of that city on Wednesday. The official permit for the building cost the company $190 in fees, this being the sum charged by Newark on an estimated cost of $300,000 for the structure.

Alleged Contract Terms.
It is understood that the Orange Water Company has submitted terms to the Town Council for a renewal of its water contract. It is said that the offer includes free water for all municipal buildings and the flushing of sewers, and that the price of each hydrant will be $27, or $3 lower than under the present contract. The price to customers, however, has not been made known. The new contract, if accepted, will allow the company to charge a price that will enable it "to make a fair profit."

Musical Instructions.
Mrs. Bennett-Francis. For terms and further particulars call at or address 55 Race Street, Bloomfield, N. J.—Advt.

Canal Abandonment.

Thomas N. McCarter and the members of the Newark Board of Trade know very well that the matter of the abandonment of the Morris Canal is not one in which one, two or three counties are immediately concerned. This question of abandonment is of vital interest to the whole State. For it is true that the canal, which covers one hundred and more miles of land, some of which is among the most valuable in New Jersey, under a provision of the charter, can be taken by the State at its fair value in 1923, and that if the State does not then avail itself of this option, the canal will become the State's property in 1973 without any compensation whatever. The value of this property has been variously estimated at anywhere between $15,000,000 and $25,000,000. How much is it worth to the Public Service Corporation? Mr. McCarter doesn't say. In fact, he doesn't intimate. But he did say in his address to the Newark Board of Trade that last year forty-four millions of people were carried over the trolley roads of Newark, an increase of 24 per cent. in four years, and it was estimated that in the next five years the number carried would reach sixty-five millions. "There is now," he said, "great congestion at Broad and Market streets, Newark, and this increase made new outlets absolutely necessary, and by utilizing the canal bed express trolley trains could be run to various points in two or three North Jersey counties, and even to New York city." In other words (not Mr. McCarter's words), the Public Service Corporation, by the use of the canal bed, would become a public benefactor, and the people would pay the bill, while the State would sacrifice its immense interest, rapidly and constantly accruing and increasing, in one of the most valuable properties, area considered, in the United States. In this way two-thirds, or at least one-half, of the counties of the State would be compelled to yield up a soon to be magnificent tax paying asset to the greed of a single corporation. Mr. McCarter is a young man of much general information, but he may not be old enough to know that the election of Governors of States, the choice of members of Congress and of United States Senators have turned upon State issues of insignificant magnitude as compared with the issue which he is raising between the people versus a corporation. It is scarcely to be imagined that the people of New Jersey ever will elect a Legislature which would dare to vote for the abandonment of the Morris Canal for the gratification of a corporation or to meet the wishes of any one Board of Trade in the State.—New York Tribune.

Lawyer Barrett for Prosecutor.
Governor Murphy will have a large number of appointments to make this winter, and the most important one in Essex County will be that of Prosecutor of the Peace. It is supposed that Chandler W. Biker will be reappointed, although it is said he will be opposed by Major Lentz, who is said to desire Halway M. Barrett for the place. The Governor will make his own selection of Essex men, it is believed, and is said to desire Mr. Biker to continue in his office.

Guild Lecture.

Monday evening the fourth entertainment in the Guild course will be given, when Rev. Dr. Henry Van Dyke will deliver a lecture on Tennyson. Dr. Van Dyke is well known as the author of those beautiful books, "The Ruined Palace," "The Blue Flower" and "Little Rivers." He was the Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church at its New York meeting, and is in great demand all over the country, both for the pulpit and the platform. A most interesting entertainment is expected.

W. W. Keyler's New Departure.

Selling Medicine at Half Price Under Guarantee of Cure.

After two months of remarkable sales W. W. Keyler, the enterprising druggist, says that his plan of selling at half price the regular 50 cent size of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, and guaranteeing to refund the money if it does not cure, has been the greatest success he has ever known.

He has sold hundreds of bottles of the specific; and as yet has not had one returned, although he stands ready at any time to refund the money should any customer be dissatisfied. This is the strongest testimony that can be furnished to the great merit of this medicine.

Any one suffering with dyspepsia, constipation, liver troubles, headaches, dizziness, coated tongue, or the general tired feeling, caused by inactive liver and bowels or disordered digestion, should take advantage of W. W. Keyler's new departure and buy a bottle of Dr. Howard's specific at half price, with his personal guarantee to return the money if it does not cure.

The specific comes in the form of small granules, very pleasant to take, and each vial contains sixty doses. Under Mr. W. W. Keyler's special half-price offer, this means a month's treatment for 25 cents, with the best medicine known for the cure of constipation and stomach troubles.

If you cannot go to his store to-day, send him your order by mail, as Mr. W. W. Keyler has only a limited supply to sell at this special price.—Advt.

Hospital Building Fund.

The Governors of the Mountsinale Hospital cannot personally solicit contributions for the new building from every individual. Let no one wait to be asked to give, but let every good citizen consider this a personal appeal to him to add as much as he can to the building fund. The following amounts were received last week: Previously acknowledged, $29,640.20; L. S. B., $25; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Comstock, $200; W. E. Marcus, $500; D. T. Woodley, $20; Mrs. Mary E. Wilde, $200; Mrs. Robert M. Boyd, $50; George O. White, $20; D. T. Campbell, $5; Mrs. R. Delphens, $2; H. W., $100; total, $30,763.20.

Lyrics of Nature.

Lyrics of Nature is the title of a book of poems of which Minnie Mary Munks is the author and publisher. The little volume has 120 pages and merits kind attention and encouragement as distinctly a Bloomfield publication. It contains a brightly told glimpse of country life. Hallowe'en; a longer romantic story, in several chapters; Love's by the Riverside and many shorter stories. All of them are true. The title was chosen for the book by the author, who possesses an undoubted gift in voicing and clothing in simple language scenes of nature. There are two illustrations, and the printing and binding are executed in an attractive and durable manner. The price of the book is $1.25, and can be obtained at the author's residence, No. 18 New street, Bloomfield.
